2. A search was made on all the useable [REDACTED] missions covering this area. One possible electronics site was observed at the following location: 44-48-25N 35-04-30E. This suspect site appeared on [REDACTED] the first coverage of the area. Several small buildings or sheds were visible in Area A (see attached prints). Area B contained a "U" shaped building or possibly three buildings in a "U" shaped pattern. A smaller building or structure was adjacent to it. The small scale of the photography precluded identification of any possible antennas.

25X1 [REDACTED] covered the area but the photography was of poor quality. New ground scars in Area A indicated activity but no further interpretation was possible.

Good quality photography was obtained of the site on [REDACTED] however, no stereo coverage was available on this mission. Several new larger buildings were visible in Area A (see attached prints) and Area C was apparent. Area C appeared as a rectangularly fenced area with unidentified activity within its boundaries. Lack of stereo coverage prevented identification of any possible antennas in the site.

This site is held suspect on the basis of its location, i.e., its proximity to the requested search area, its elevation, and its recent activity. The following missions were examined in this search:
